

Rogue Valley Veterinary Medical Association

presents:

Preventing Injury in your Sporting Dog

by Dr. Wendy Baltzer, DVM, PhD, DACVS, Associate Professor at Oregon State University

This is a free public seminar for dog owners interested in learning about injury prevention for active sporting dogs. Strenuous activity can cause sporting injuries in dogs that can be debilitating! Learn how to prevent these injuries through physical therapy and training exercises that will strengthen your dog and prepare them for the rigors of agility trials, hunting or just long hikes on the trail. Dr. Baltzer is a renowned speaker on canine rehabilitation and therapy and has a special interest in prevention and treatment of common sporting injuries.

Join us for this free seminar Saturday, January 28th at 3:30pm at Twin Creeks Retirement Village, 888 Twin Creeks Crossing, Central Point, OR, 97502
